Mandi Schuch

Breastfeeding for me began at age 19 when I had my first baby. Though I was young and had very little knowledge I fell in love with that experience. I breastfed all 4 of my children, and experienced, as well as overcame, some challenges that inspired my desire for helping moms have the best experience for them. I am excited to be a part of the health department team and to use my experience and passion to help moms and babies build the amazing, natural, and healthy bond of breastfeeding.
